"The earth is the Lord's, and everything in it,
the world, and all who live in it;"
Psalm 24:1

Did you know that we are called to worship? Worship is not optional for followers of Jesus. It's not something we can just decide to do, when and if we feel like it.

God does not save us for our sakes, but for His. We are saved in order to worship Him.

- What place does worship have in your life now?

Read Psalm 24:1-10.

Psalm 24 is an effective worship song because it has three crucial elements: it begins by praising the greatness of our King, is followed by a meditation on who can enter His sanctuary, and ends with praising Him again.

This Psalm tells us "the earth and everything in it" is the Lord's.

- How do you treat things that "belong to you"? When you consider that everything belongs to the Lord, how does this change the way you see the things around you?

Circle every occurrence of the word, "King" in the Psalm.

- How does this Psalm show us God as the King of Glory? How should this influence the way you worship Him?

- When you think of the current reign of Jesus and of His committed and faithful love for you, as well as His promise to keep you and protect you, what should the result of believing these things be in your life? (Where/how might you have failed in this?)

You have value in the eyes of a great and mighty God. Take a moment to worship the King of Glory, giving Him praise and thanks.
